Presents

A Book at . . .

 Mrs. Billian Crisp

Her dry wit and wonderful sense of humor, coupled with her quiet and unassuming manner, will always be uppermost in our minds and hearts.

Something to remember and emulate is her belief in meeting a child's needs emotionally, physically, socially, and educationally in so far as she was able. She was no worshipper of the intellect in children, realizing that many things make up excellence, and that it takes years of patience to bring it to maturity.

She met every obligation as a teacher with a will to get the job done well. Her teaching will be remembered for its thoroughness; no phase of the program was ever neglected.

Perhaps her greatest asset as a teacher was in recognizing that:

"Genius, that power which dazzles mortal eyes, Is oft but perseverance in disguise."

This Was the Year That Was When We Were Accepted

"We were doing pretty good, weren't we?"

Performing our best

Angry

typing ABC sentences

"If I see another "C" I'll SCREAM!"

Baffled

by College Entrance Exams

"I've already failed, there's no use in going any further."

Busy

raising funds for the senior trip

"Have pity on us poor, little seniors."

Conceited

after having received senior rings

"And how are you this fine morn-ing?"

Congratulated

as teachers of the year

"Hurry up and take the picture; I need to get back to class,"

Damaged

by pep talk with Mr. Carpenter

"Have mercy, it wasn't that bad."

Directed

by our very efficient safety patrol

"All right, everybody, I'm the boss here."

Elegant

as football queen

"We'd make a cute couple, but . . .

Embarrassed

after an accident

"I feel a draft."

after three hours of cabinet making "This is getting monotonous."

Forced

to take scholastic tests

"We'll show'em how dumb we are."

Grateful

for the new school building

"It's not much now, but just wait awhile."

Guilty

being caught borrowing answers
"I'll pay you back later."

Honored

by a supper

"I thought we didn't get this unless we won. "

Hypnotized

by the girls at the junior-senior prom

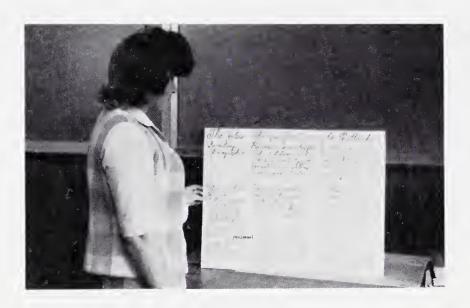

"Who are these people anyway?"

Inspired

by the FHA candle-light initiation

"We are the Future Homemakers of America,"

Informed

by Ayagah Club posters

"I wonder which job to take next?"

Tolted

after a basketball game

"He was a great, great big man!"

Joyful after beating Murphy

"Hooray, hooray, we beat 'em after nine years!!!"

"Oh, law, I'll have to take a bath tonight."

Kleen

by the nice, clean sidewalks

Kind-hearted

by white Christmas campaign

"At least we're good for something."

Laborious

in second year typing

"Dear John; oh, let me borrow your eraser."

Bovers

at the old fountain

"It's great, this thing called love."

Mischievous
in the library

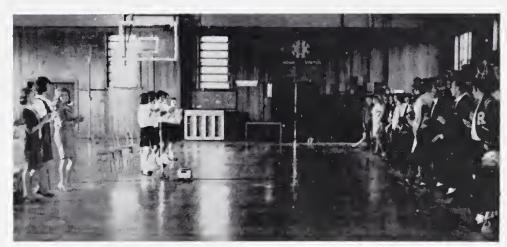

Misfortunate

after a bus wreck

"A bump on the head is better than being dead."

"You don't know what this will do to my character."

Noisy

at our pep rallies

"If we can't beat 'em playing, we'll beat 'em yelling."

Noticed

for our beauty

"MY" what Hollywood has missed!"

Overloaded

with books at exam time

"What do they think we are, any-how, slaves?"

Outranked

by the principal

"After all, you're only the assistant principal."

of our football team

"We're the greatest! . . . Almost."

Preparing

for the future

"You don't mind if we have burned toast, do you?"

Qualified |

to wear R-jackets

"Not just anybody can wear one, you know."

2uick

at our basketball games

"You'll not get this one, Bud."

"It does something for us, don't you think?"

Ruined

by the pictures arriving

Reminded

of the true meaning of Christmas

"Mrs. Hooper's sixth grade."

Stunned

by our report card

"Them mean old teachers!"

Starved

at lunch

"I hope they give seconds."

Tempted

to drop biology

"We ought to report this to the humane society."

Toothless

after a visit with the school dentist

"Look, Mom, no teeth!"

Unsophisticated

washing cars

"My sweety should see me now."

Unexcused

after a big fishing trip

"You should see the one that got away."

Vacated

out Mrs. Carpenter's English class

"The hall was just too crowded."

Visited

by celebrities

"They should have known we'd make good."

Worthless

in jounalism

"So what if I ain't efficient, I'm cute."

Well-mannered

in the presence of teachers

"Ah, I wanted to do it anyway."

X-cused

from school on election day

"They told me I was too young to vote."

X-hilerating

at junior-senior prom

"It's about time somebody noticed my charm."

Young-at-heart

doing the twist

"I've got to use up my stored energy some way."

Yearning

to say good-by

"Wait til I wipe the tears away."

Zoned

at our smoking areas

"We have to stay within 15 feet of these prison gates."

Zestful

in the early morning air "Cold? It's just your imagination."

ADMINISTRATION

Superintendent's

Message

We wish to express our congratulations to the Annual Staff, the Senior Class and the Senior Sponsors for the fine job they have accomplished in making the 1965 "Robin" a tremendous success.

In the years to come this Yearbook will provide a visual reference for memories of your tenure at Robbinsville High School that will become more and more important to you as the years pass.

We extend our earnest and heartful wishes to this year's graduating class for a happy and successful future. The foundation has been established and you must build upon it as your future unfolds, and may devotion to God be an integral part of that future.

Kenneth S. Barker, Superintendent

THOMAS A. CARPENTER

I would like to personally congratulate all you seniors for your accomplishments during your stay at our institution. A special commendation is in order for the excellent effort on the part of the annual staff for making this Yearbook the success it is. As you look at this book in the years to come I hope you will be reminded of the importance of the basic educational foundation you received in your school.

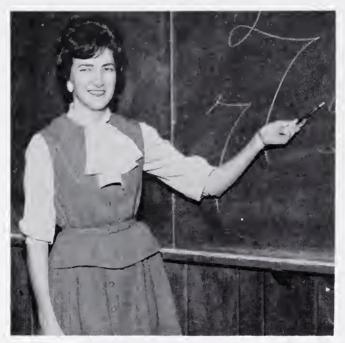

It is my fondest wish that each of you will make valuable contributions to society.

Please remember your duty to God, your country and yourself.

Thomas A. Carpenter, Principal

Best-all-around

GARY and MARTHA

Love ye not the things of this world but heed the word of Reverend "Squirrel"

Most Intellectual

YOLONDA and BOBBY

Our school and town are kept clean and neat Because the intellectuals sweep the street.

Most Studious

HAROLD and LINDA

It has always been my fondest wish, from this fountain to catch a fish.

Most Likely to Succeed

JANICE and DANNY

Don't get smart and start to brag. All this money is not yet in the bag.

Most Talented

WANDA and OLIVER

Pots and pans may redden our hands But it sure does beat that old band.

Neatest

SONJA and LEONARD

Clean ears, feet, and all the rest We'll see if Tide is really the best.

Best Citizens

JOYCE and RICHARD

We're good citizens, there is no doubt But why are we inside looking out?

Most Dependable

EDITH and LARRY

You're the only man who's been afraid Of my trusty razor-sharp blade.

Primps

RUSSELL, GEORGE and LORETTA

Although I look quite like the girls I've never had my hair in curls.

Most Athletic

SUE and TERRY

Of all the times I've been in this hall I just can't seem to hit the ball.

Song Birds

BLAIR and ANN

We were just singing in the rain And using this to ease our pains.

Friendliest

BUTCH and EVELYN

Come you two, make up and be friends For this is where your fighting ends.

Flirts

KATHLEEN and KENNY

Pick the ring that suits you dear Cause all my credit cards expire this year.

Most Absent-Minded

JANICE and BOBBY

That darned sign's been up and down And I forgot you were in town.

Baziest

SANDRA and TEDDY

Out of the way, you crazy fools Fall in behind and help push our stools.

Night Hawks

JOE and ELWANDA

Come on you nighthawks, let's rise and shine

If you didn't but know -- it's half past nine.

Monkeys

BARBARA and ROGER

People might think that we were absurd If we filled each other up with Firebird.

Man Hater and Woman Hater

NAOMI and TONY

All our schoolmates have at one time said, "Before they marry, we'll all be dead!"

Most Popular

ODESSA and THOMAS

Eat fruits and vegetables every day And you'll keep the scurvy away.

Babies

HUGH and SHARON

People say we're babies, nurse, But we're big enough to curse.
